Internet technology presentation

Hello, I am going to introduce our application. The name of our application is "App Rating". As you guys know, there are more than millions mobile applications in the market and some of them are really awesome. Meanwhile, a large mount of them are quite awful. Every one has own opinions on different applications. So the focus of our application is rating applications and commenting on them. It is used to help users have some ideals about what an application is and express their opinions. The examples below can explain what kind of problems is it going to solve.
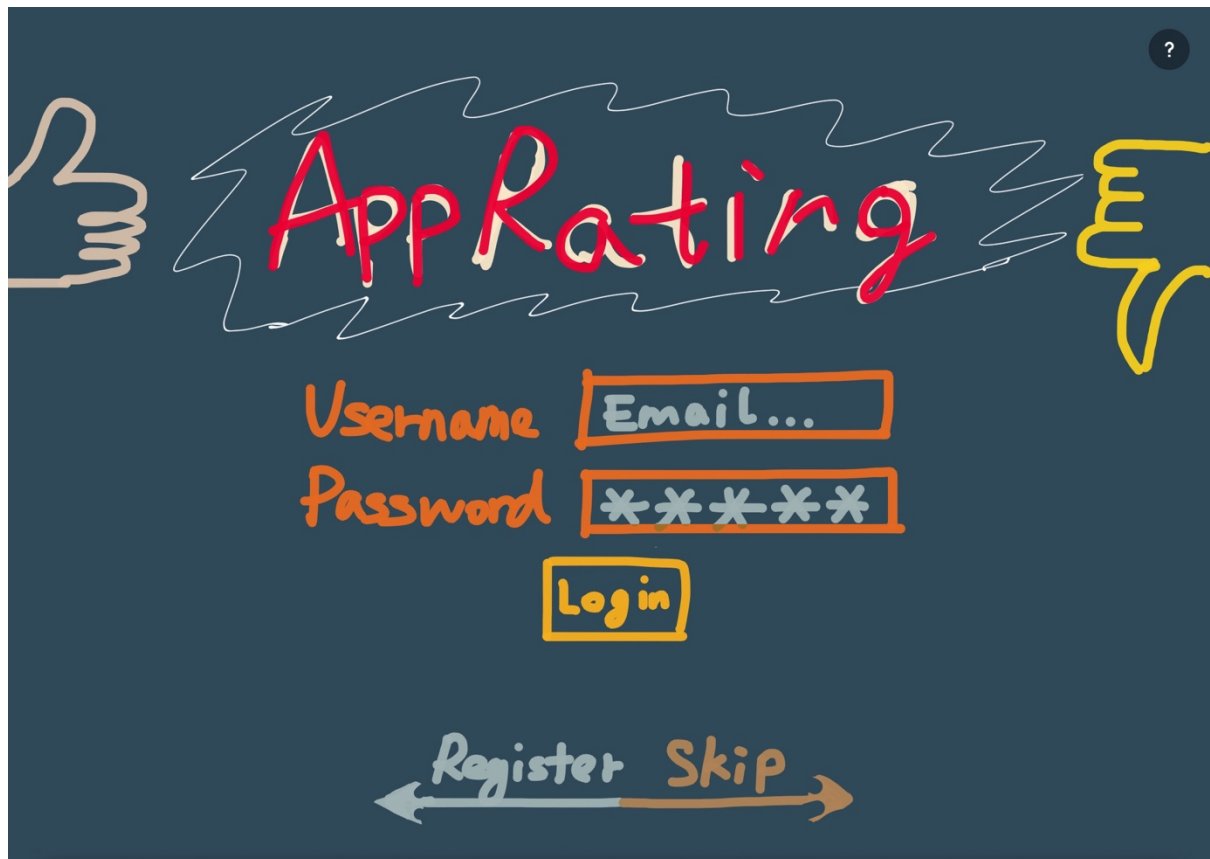

Scenario 1:
Chen is a normal mobile user, his friend told him that Facebook is a very phone application. He was very curious about what Facebook is so he can log in and check what others think about the Facebook. After using Facebook, Chen can share his experience and ideals with other users.

Scenario 2:
Kevin is a app developer of twitter. In order to improve Twitter, he wants to publish the Twitter on the web to get feedbacks and comments from users so that the developer group of Twitter can know users' requirements.
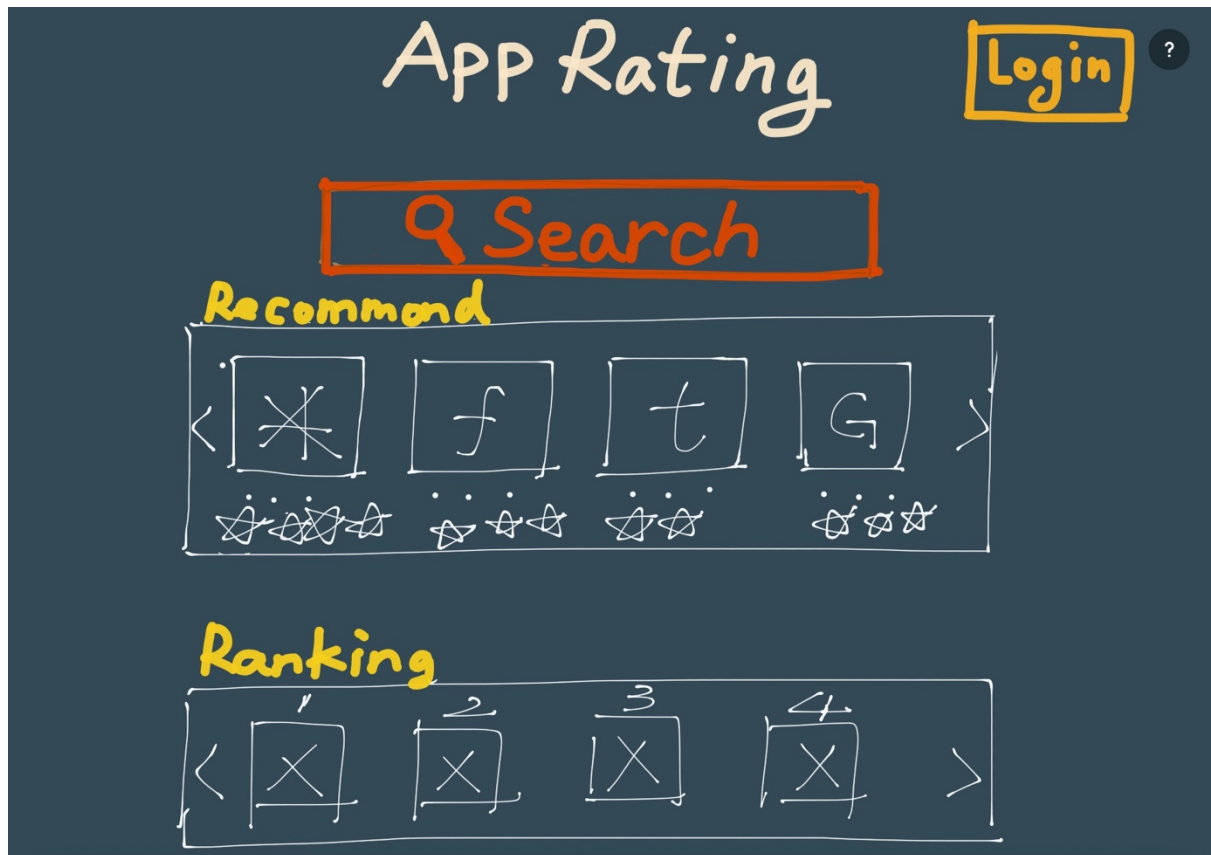

Scenario 3:
Jacky is a project manager. His company plans to develop a good and popular mobile application. He wants to learn what kind of application is the most popular. So he can check app ranking on our website to help them develop their application.
